

Toyboy Warehouse is the UK's Largest Dating Site Exclusively for Older Women and Younger Men.

Toyboy Warehouse was established in 2006, making it the original toyboy and cougar dating community. Founded by toyboy dater Julia Macmillian, the aim was to break the taboo surrounding age-gap relationships. Since its inception Toyboy Warehouse has grown dramatically, becoming one of the most popular niche dating websites. With successfully enlivening the dating scene for older women and younger men, as well as helping to start many committed relationships, Toyboy Warehouse's future is an open and exciting prospect.

Toyboy Warehouse in Numbers

Press

From our members we hear about the interesting, unusual and uplifting experiences they have had on the toyboy and cougar dating scene. A number of these exciting stories and anecdotes have been well documented in various press features. We are always uncovering new members with even more fascinating stories.

Our Aims

Help members find love, lust and romance

Endeavour to bring age-gap relationships into the norm

To ensure Toyboy Warehouse is an authentic, fun and trusted destination for women to meet younger men and vice versa

Our Exclusive and Loyal Community

"Toyboy Warehouse has been fabulous for me. It really did change my life. I went from being a bored, isolated divorcee ... to a sexually charged older woman having lots of exciting dates with interesting young men - some of whom were incredibly handsome and sexy."

- Anonymous

"I'm in my fifties and for a time felt invisible to the outside world. I tried traditional dating agencies but only had one date with a man who had let himself go. But younger men certainly make the effort! Since joining Toyboy Warehouse I've had countless dates. It's a big confidence boost."

-Teresa, 49

